

Artists: Joe Adams & Janet Neuwalder

This mural has been constructed through community workshops over the summer of 2023. The mural has been designed to communicate the rich history of agriculture and the natural beauty of our surroundings. The fields are filled with fruit, the hedgerows replete with wildflowers, and birds and butterflies fill the air.

The sun and mountains above the fields represent the growth of Camarillo as an innovation and technology hub. The globe of elliptical disks floating above the mountains represents the compact disc production at the Technicolor plant which previously occupied this location.